

When ballots will be counted in the 2024 Provincial Election.

- All ballots are paper and are marked by the voter by hand.
- All ballots are counted by hand by election workers. Some workers will have more ballots to count than others, so voting results will not all report at the same time.
- There are no electronic ballots, voting machines, or counting machines used in a Saskatchewan provincial election.

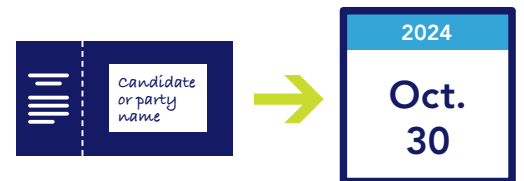

1 First Preliminary Count October 28 after 8 p.m. (last day of voting)

- voting week ballots
- homebound voting ballots
- personal care facility ballots

2 Second Preliminary Count October 30 (two days after last day of voting)

- vote by mail ballots received by October 26

3 Final Count November 9 (12 days after last day of voting)

- all ballots from first and second preliminary counts
- vote by mail ballots received after October 26
- hospital, remand, and temporarily displaced voter ballots
