DIRECTORY OF COMMUNITIES – JANUARY 2025 (V1.0)

Introduction

Introduction

There are different electoral boundaries at three levels of government in Saskatchewan—federal, provincial, and municipal.

The Office of the Chief Electoral Officer (commonly referred to as “Elections Saskatchewan”) is the province’s independent, impartial election management body.

With a legal mandate established by the Legislative Assembly of Saskatchewan, it plans, organizes, conducts, and reports on provincial electoral events. It is not responsible for federal or municipal electoral events.

This directory is intended as a reference guide for all Saskatchewan urban municipalities and their respective provincial constituencies and federal electoral districts.

Definition of an Urban Municipality

In the Saskatchewan Ministry of Government Relations guide, Comparison of Formal Entities in the Municipal Government System, it states, “Urban municipalities, by definition, include cities, towns, villages, and resort villages. Saskatchewan’s cities are governed by The Cities Act, while the remaining urban municipalities are governed by The Municipalities Act. A municipality is created by a ministerial order that describes its boundaries.”

New Provincial Constituencies

Statistics Canada compiles a census of population in each province. The most recent census was done in 2021. In Saskatchewan, a Constituency Boundaries Commission is established in accordance with The Constituency Boundaries Act, 1993, following each census taken every tenth year after 1991. Accordingly, a boundary review for Saskatchewan was conducted in 2022.

The Saskatchewan Provincial Constituency Boundaries Commission tabled its final report in October 2022. The Legislative Assembly of Saskatchewan passed Bill 119 (The Representation Act, 2012) into law on December 6, 2022.

The 61 redefined constituencies came into effect at the time of the next provincial election which was held October 28, 2024.

New Federal Electoral Districts

The Constitution of Canada requires that federal electoral districts be reviewed after each 10-year census to reflect changes and movements in Canada’s population. The federal redistribution process began in October 2021. A representation order describing and naming Canada’s future electoral districts was completed in September 2023. The new federal electoral districts will be applied in the next general election scheduled for October 20, 2025.
